THE HOUSEKEEPER.

CRACKED LIPS.—Avoid wetting the lips, especially when you are out of doors, and you will not often be troubled by them. When the mischief is done a good method is to touch them frequently with a piece of phosphat of copper (blue vitriol) which will cause them to smart but will cure them. It should be borne in mind that the salt is a poison when taken in any considerable quantity, but the small amount which is absorbed when used in this way is harmless.

Those who are liable to cracked lips on slight provocation, may prevent them by using rose lip salve, which is made by melting fine white wax in olive oil, and adding, when nearly cool, a few drops of oil of roses, and coloring it. A few grains of borax may also be added to it. Of course this salve must be stirred constantly while cooling, else the wax and oil will separate.

VINEGAR IN COOKING MEATS.—All kinds of poultry and meats can be much quicker cooked by adding to the water in which they are boiled about one eighth part vinegar. By the use of the vinegar there will be a considerable saving of fuel as well as a shortening of time. Its action is very beneficial on old tough meats, rendering them quite tender and easy to be digested. Tainted meats and fowls will also lose their bad taste if cooked in this way, and if no more vinegar is added than we have indicated, there will be no taste of vinegar acquired.

EGG DUMPLINGS.—Make a batter of a pint of milk, two well-beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of salt, and flour enough to make a batter as for pound cake. Have a clean saucepan of boiling water, let the water boil fast, drop in the batter by the tablespoonful (four or five minutes will boil them), take them out with a skimmer on a dish, put a bit of butter and pepper over, and serve with boiled or cold meat. For a little dessert, put butter and grated nutmeg, with syrup or sugar over them.

GOOD ROLLS.—The famous Parker House rolls are made in the following described manner: Make a hole in two quarts of flour, and pour in one pint of curd milk that has been boiled, with a cup of butter melted in it. Add a quarter of a cup of sugar, and half a cup of good yeast. Let it stand without mixing two or three hours.—Salt to taste. Then knead it, and set it to rise a few hours; then mould it, and set it to rise again in the pans before baking. The rolls require about fifteen minutes to bake in a quick oven.

Settling Property on a Wife.

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

When men are prosperous, and are making money, and consider themselves rich, I wonder that it so seldom comes home to them that they are liable to reverses, which shall plunge their families into the utmost pecuniary distress. Men know that business is subject to fluctuations, and that nothing is more frequent than that men should in one year have all the comforts and advantages of wealth, and the next year be stripped bare. But a vicious hopefulness prevents them from realizing that they shall ever be subject to this fate which befalls others.

Some persons have questioned whether a scrupulous honesty would allow one to hold back from creditors any part of a husbands property. A settlement of property on another, while debt hangs over it, either for the sake of avoiding payment of debt, or of securing the family, would be fraudulent, dishonest and wicked.—But if while clear of debt, a husband settles property on his wife for the just maintainance of herself and children, his after debts have no more claim upon that property than if he had sold and transferred it to a neighbor instead of his own wife. No man has a right to leave a family whom he has accustomed to affluence liable to waisting poverty. A provision made betimes, in property, for the safety of his family in case of his death or bankruptcy, may be accepted and employed by the most sensitive conscience. I write strongly on this subject, because I have seen so much distress arising from the want of this precaution.

The following slanderous paragraph goes unrebuked:—A wag has invented a new telegraph. He proposes to place a line of women fifty steps apart, and commit the news to the first of them as a secret.

AN ELEPHANT SPEECH.

After a long and heated discussion, in the House of Representatives of Missouri, on the reference of a bill amending the charter of the city of Carondelet, to a standing committee of the House, Mr. Riley obtained the floor and discoursed as follows:

Mr. Speaker:—Everybody is a pitching into this matter like toad frogs into a willow swamp, on a lovely evening in the balmy month of June, when the mellow light of the full moon fills with a delicious flood the thin, ethereal atmospheric air. (Applause.) Sir, I want to put in a word, or perhaps a word and a half.

There seems to be a disposition to fight. I say, if there is any fighting to be done, come on with your corncobs and lightning-bugs. (Applause.) In the language of the ancient Roman—

"Come on, come all, this rock shall fly
From its firm base, in a pig's eye."

Now, there has been a great deal of bombast here to-day. I call it bombast from "Alpha" to "Omega." (I don't understand the meaning of the words though.) Sir, the question to refer, is a great and magnificent question. It is a large unmeasurable sponge, of globe shape, in a small tumbler of water—it sucks up everything. Sir, I stand here with the weapons I have designated, to defend the rights of St. Louis county, the rights of any other county, even the county of Cedar itself. (Laughtea and applause.)—Sir, the debate has assumed a latitudinosity. We have had a little black-jack buncombe, a little two-bit buncombe, bombast buncombe, bung hole buncombe, and the devil and his grandmother knows what other kind of buncombe. (Laughter.)

Why, sir, just give some of 'em a little Southern soap and a little Northern water, and quicker than a hound pup can lick a skillet they will make enough buncombe lather to wash the golden flock that roams abroad the azure meads of heaven. [Cheers and laughter.] I allude to the starry firmament.

The Speaker. The gentleman is out of order. He must confine himself to the question.

Mr. Riley. Just retain your linen, if you please. I'll stick to the text as close as a pitch plaster to a pine plank, or a lean pig to a hot jam rock. [Cries of "go on"—"you'll do."]

I want to say to these carboniferous gentlemen, these igneous individuals, these detonating demonstrators, these perreginous volcanoes, come on with your combustibles! If I dont—well, I'll suck the gulf of Mexico through a goose quill. [Laughter and applause.] Perhaps you think I am diminutive tubers, and sparse in the mundane elevation. You may discover, gentlemen, that you are laboring under as great a misapprehension as though you had incinerated your inner vestment. In the language of the noble bard,

"I was not born in a thicket,
To be scared by a cricket."

[Applause.]

Sir, we have lost our proper position. Our proper position is the zenith and nadir—our heads to the one our heels to the other, at right angles with the horizon, spanded by that azure are of the lustrous firmament, bright with the coruscations of innumerable constellations, and proud as a speckled horse on county court day. [Cheers.]

"But how have the mighty fallen," in the language of the poet Silversmith. We have assumed a sloshindicular or a dyaganological position. And what is the cause? Echo answers "buncombe," sir, "buncombe." The people have been fed on buncombe, while a lot of spavined, ringboned, hamstrung, wind-galled, swyneyed, split hoofed, distempered poll-eviled, pot-bellied politicians have had their noses in the public crib until there ain't fodder enough left to make gruel for a sick grasshopper. [Cheers and laughter.]

Sir, these hungry brats keep tugging at the public pap. They say, "let down your milk, old Sucky, or you'll have a split bag." Do they think they can stuff such buncombe down our craw? No, sir; you might as well try to stuff butter in a wild cat with a hot awl. [Continued laughter.] The thing can't be did.

A "SELL."—A wag stepped into a saloon (we don't locate it,) and after taking a view at the knot of sitters gathered around the stove, without speaking to any of them, began to count heads audibly, pointing first to himself and then to each expectant bummer. He counted one, two, three, four, five. "Bar-tender, six glasses of beer." Instantly ten bloodshot eyes gleamed with delight of expectancy; five necks straightened; five pairs of feet were drawn together for a rise; five mouths were cleared of tobacco; five coat-sleeves drawn across five pair parched, tobacco-stained lips, involuntarily smacking with sweet anticipations. Six glasses of lager were ranged in a row on the bar, when the joker, without deigning a glance at the thirsty objects of his enumeration, proceeded to stow away the six glasses of "hop water" in short order, to the very evident disgust and disappointment of the said "enumerate," who each heaved a sigh of regret, and muttered ruefully, "sold."

POOR ex-King George of Hanover has been swindled out of five million-guilders by persons in Vienna.

THE Department clerks at Washington heap coals of fire on Greely's head by resolving that he ought to be elected.

FRANK TUTTLE, son of the Postmaster in Indianapolis, and Mollie Knight were arrested in that city for robbing the mail.

A CLERGYMAN of Sandusky, O., at the bed of a sick man said to him, "Have you made your peace with God?" to which the sick man innocently replied, "I don't know that I ever had any difficulty with him."

Does it follow that a man raised on ginger must be ginger-bred?

An Arkansas Judge had his law office, close to a certain doctor's—in fact, they were separated only by a plank partition with a door in it.—The Judge was at his table busy with briefs and bills in chancery. The doctor was writing a letter, and pausing for a moment, called out, "Judge, isn't es-qu-i, the way to spell equinomical?" "Yes, I think it is," said the Judge; "but here's Webster's dictionary—I can soon tell you." He opens the book and turns over the leaves, repeating aloud, "e-quinomical—e-quino m i c a l."—Finding the proper place he runs his eye and finger up and down the column two or three times, until he is thoroughly satisfied that the word in question is not there. Closing the book with a slam, the Judge lays his specs on the table, and rising slowly breaks forth: "Well, sir, I've always been a Daniel Webster man, and I've voted for him for President, but any man that will write as big a dictionary as this, and not put as common a word as e-quinominal in it, can't get my vote for any thing hereafter."

WEDNESDAY NOV. 10, 1869

THE CAPE FEAR AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—The first annual Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association will occur, near the city of Wilmington, on the 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th of next month. Extensive arrangements are being made and we are gratified to learn that the Fair has bright prospects of success. Col. Fremont, President of the Association to whom much credit is due for the manner in which he has exerted himself in his official capacity will cause to be run a special train between Goldsboro' and Wilmington, each day of the Fair, leaving Goldsboro' at 7 o'clock, A. M., returning leave Wilmington at 5 o'clock, P. M. The fare for the round trip has been placed at the very low price of two dollars; persons purchasing railroad tickets to also purchase tickets of admission to the Fair for one day, at least. We hope that Wayne and adjoining counties will be largely represented, and that all will take an active part in endeavoring to reward the energetic officers of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association with that success which their earnest labors deserve. From present indications we would judge that this Fair is destined to equal, if not excell, the one recently held in Raleigh. Again we say, let all who can conveniently do so, and particularly the citizens of Eastern Carolina, attend, and lend their exertions in promoting the interests of this section of the Old North State.

WILD ANIMALS—AND THE CIRCUS.—John Robinson's Great Combination Circus and Menagerie will exhibit at Goldsboro', on next Wednesday, and there will no doubt be an immense crowd to welcome this Prince of Showmen.

On Friday night last, says the Tarboro' Southerner, there arrived at this place a valuable addition to the Zoological collection of the great Menagerie, consisting of a Zebra, Hyena, Leopard, four Gorilla Monkeys, and a number of beautiful birds of the gayest plumage, all imported direct for Mr. Robinson.

These specimens are now kept at Cromwell's Livery Stable and have attracted a large number of the curious during the past week. They will be incorporated in the Menagerie on the arrival of the Circus here on Saturday.

"Why don't you trade with me?" said a close fisted tradesman to a friend the other day. The reply was characteristic: "You have never asked me sir I have looked all through the papers for an invitation in the shape of an advertisement and found none. I never go where I am not invited."

THE NEXT ELECTIONS.—The next elections occur on the 30th instant, in Texas and Mississippi, on adopting the new State Constitutions and for offices under them. The total registration in Mississippi is 139,937, of whom 50,176 are whites and 80,761 colored. There were 76,016 votes cast at the convention election, of which 63,822 were colord and 69,737 were for the convention. In Texas the vote for the convention last year was 54,388, giving 30,896 majority in its favor; but several counties are not inluded in the return.

The Legislature meets next Monday, (the 15th day) of November.

Since the organization of the order of Odd Fellows in this country, in 1830, up to and including 1869, the amount of revenue received by the order has been $31,324,014 43. The receipts from 1860 to 1869 amounted to $13,111,133—an increase over the preceding ten years of but $159,000. The amount of relief afforded, as appears by the records of the order, from 1830 to 1869, was $13,775,030 42; and the number of members initiated 660,259. The ten years between and including 1850 and 1859 were the most prosperous the order has ever known in this country.

TIT FOR TAT.—Two Irishmen were in prison; the one for stealing a cow, the other for stealing a watch.

"Halloo, Mike, what o'clock is it?" said the cow-stealer to the other.

"And sure, Pat, I haven't any time-peice handy, but I think it is most milking time."

The recent frosts have badly damaged the uncured tobacc crops in the West.

George D. Prentice has been a constant drinker for forty years. For ten years he has been one of the lignum vitæ order. Here is a Temperance lecture by him: "There is a time when the pulse lies low in the bosom and beats low in the veins; when the spirit sleeps, which, apparently, knows no waking, sleeps in its house of clay, and the windows are shut, and the doors hung in the invisible crape of melancholy; when we wish the golden sunshine pitchy darkness, and wish to fancy clouds where no clouds be. This is a state of sickness when physic may be thrown to the dogs, for we wish none of it. What shall raise the spirit? What shall make the heart beat music again, and the pulses through all the myriad thronged halls in the house of life? What shall make the sun kiss the eastern hills again for us, with all his awakening gladness, and the night overflow with moonlight, love, and flowers? Love itself is the greatest stimulant, the most intoxicating of all, and performs all these miracles, and is a miracle itself, and it is not at the drug store, whatever they say. The counterfeit is in the market, but the winged god is not a money-changer; we assure you. Men have tried many things, but still they ask for stimulant. Men try to bury the floating dead of their own souls in the wine-cup, but the corpse rises. We see their faces in the bubbles. The intoxication of drink sets the world whirling again, and the pulses to playing music and the thoughts galloping, but the first clock runs down sooner, and an unnatural stimulant only leaves the house it filled with the wildest revelry, more silent, more sad, more deserted. There is only one stimulant that never intoxicates—duty. Duty puts a clear sky over every man into which the sky-lark, happiness, always goes singing.

A LAST TOKEN.—Sorrow nestles at the foot of the cross, there bended knees find strength, and hearts find peace and hope. The tie that binds us cannot be broken—there is all the past in life—these links will forever unite us. There is a consolation some friends have at parting, whose home is not here, although we walk in different pathways on earth, all lead to one abiding-place—Heaven.

Mr. Drake, who put down the first oil well in this country, and who at one time was worth a million, recently died in the poor-house. The first derrick and engine still stand over the well, and are very carefully preserved. A monument is to be erected to his memory, which will contain a room in which the engine is to be placed.

The Postmaster General in his message, it is stated, will recommend the abolition of the franking privilege; also that the letter-box delivery system shall be abolished; also a reduction on the rates of registered letters; and a modification of the laws regulating the advertisements of the department.

The official returns from Ohio give Hayes (Republican) 7,501 majority for Governor over Pendleton.

When the Breton mariner puts to sea, his prayer is, "Keep me, my God! my boat is so small, and Thy ocean so wide!" Does not this beautiful prayer truly express the condition of each one of us.

WORK FOR BOYS.—The New York Journal of Commerce, on training boys, is in favor of agriculture first, mechanical trades second, and says:

"We would not train the boy to any mercantile business, as that department is already overcrowded by the boys who are brought up to look down on manual labor and to aim at a clerkship as the only fit employment for dainty persons, who dislike dirty work."

Cape Fear Agricultural Association Fair.

In reply to numerous letters and enquiries I am daily receiving, I desire to ask all papers interested in the success of our Fair to publish the following information:

1. All persons can exhibit articles, but only Life and Annual members can compete for premiums. The payment of twenty-five dollars constitutes a person a Life member, and two dollars an Annual member.

2. All articles competing for premiums must be entered at the Secretaries' office upon the Grounds, by Wednesday, 17th inst. at 10 o'clock a. m.

3. All articles intended for exhibition will be brought to Wilmington and returned after the Fair, by all the railroads and steamboats, free of charge.

4. All articles should be securely bagged, boxed or barreled, and all stock should be attended by a groom, or be suffiicently well broken to stand to the halter.

5. Everything should be plainly marked and directed to Gen'l R. Ransom, Marshal, C. F. A. A. at Wilmington.

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream like semi fluid, called CHYME. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The CHYME passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia, complicated with bili usness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the Chime into Chyle, and promote the passage through the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia and liver complaint. The explanation is plain simple, philosophical, and true.

J B WHITAKER, Jr., Reporter.

CHURCH NOTICE.—The REV. J. W. LARMOUR, of the Diocese of Maryland, who was tendered the Rectorship of the Parish in this town early last month, will officiate in St. Stephen's Church, on Sunday next, Nov'r 14th, morning and evening, at usual hours.

WINTER HAS ARROVE.—Burns' chill November's surly blast has put in an appearance. We cannot say much about the reception he has met with, for, if we must tell the truth about it, it has been anything but hospitable. No sooner had our citizens the first inkling of his approach, than every door was shut, and every coat buttoned up. A chill ran down the vertebral column, at the bare thought of his coming. To drop metaphor, there was a great change in the weather Saturday night, the mercury went down and fuel went up.

☞ WE were treated Saturday night to the stiffest kind of a norther, which rattled the window sashes and banged shutters and doors after the most hyperborean fashion. Timid ladies fancied they heard the most ghostly noises, and many a curly head rested uneasily upon the downiest of lows. Sunday morning Boreas piped away still more lustily, whistling thro' the trees and robbing them of their foliage for a leafy autumn carpet for the earth. He gathered up the dust in the palms of his invisible hands and sent it in blinding clouds whirling through the streets, to powder the chignons of the ladies and to get into everybody's eyes.

CHANGE OF PROPERTY.—That well known, fine, large, two story building, with adjoining grounds, known as the Carrington property, situated on the corner of West Centre and Mulberry streets, was sold a few days ago by the Sheriff and the U. S. Marshal, to satisfy sundry executions, for $3,600 cash, subject to the widow's dower. It has since been re-sold, and is now owned by Mr. Albert Day, at a cost of $4,200. Mr. Day has done a fine, increasing business on that corner for the past ten years, and we presume was well aware of the value of that commodious property, and also, of its position as a business stand.—We regard the property as one of the very best constructed buildings and as a business stand is unequalled.—We trust that the energy and industry displayed in our business community by Mr. Day, will cause it to increase five fold in value. He has our best wishes for success.

WEIL BROS., at present occupying the Carrington building, have stocked their store with a fresh and superb assortment of gentlemen's, boys and children's fall and winter dress, business and school suits, together with shirts of all kinds and underwear.—Their stock of Dry Goods is also complete. Purchasers in this store will not be annoyed by having different prices asked them for goods. But one price is fixed on each article, and nothing more or less is taken for it.—In other words, a fair, low price is charged, and no reductions made upon importunity. This house has nothing but the latest and most approved styles.

A RARITY.—There are a few things so rare under the sun—not even excepting Christian charity—as a merchant who will tell his customers plainly and without circumlocution that he makes money however little, by his sales. That our friend EINSTEIN is a merchant of that order, we are fully convinced; and he himself announces, that without pretending to sell at or under cost, he is prepared to compete with any in prices, and invites the public to examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere. His stock of ready made clothing and fancy goods is most extensive and complete.

SNOW.—We were visited, on Sunday during the blow, with a considerable sprinkle of snow, which is a rare occurrence this early, in this section of the country.

SEVEN SINS.—1. Refusing to take your own county paper.

2. Taking a paper and then not paying for it.

3. Not advertising.

4. Getting married and forgetting the printer.

5. Asking newspapers to publish matter that is for your own benefit without remuneration.

6. Never paying your subscription until the publisher goes to the trouble of asking for it.

JNO. ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.—This is the biggest show on earth, and will make a grand entrance into our town tomorrow, (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock. The New York Clipper, the best authority in the United States on such matters, says it is one of the finest circuses that has appeared in our city for many years. The equestrian performances of Mlle. Cordelia were superb, and displayed an intrepidity and abandon most remarkable. That of Mlle. Frances was also fine. The four horse bare-back riding of Wilson elicited great applause, and Mons. Franconi, with his trained steed Gray Eagle, and also Mlle. Gertrude, with her mare Lucy Bertram, were hailed with enthusiastic plaudits.—The elephant, jugglery and tightrope performances were highly enjoyed, and the trained deer, with its Indian rider, was a new and pleasing feature introduced. The zoological and aviary department is the largest collection ever seen in New York.

In addition to the attractive and unparalleled features mentioned, the auxiliary force is the largest and most meritorious in the country, comprising many lesser lights which would be designated stars in any other similar concern.

The menagerie is not only now the largest in the world, but embraces many specimens never seen before in this part of the world. These have been added in the last few weeks.—Some of them are intended especially for the edification and entertainment of the people South this coming winter. A gnu (or horned horse), the white lama, double humped milk-white baby camel, and other rare curiosities, are all new here, and, in conjunction with the other choice natural specimens, make up the completest, choicest and most excellent zoological display to be found anywhere.

But the well-known popularity and ripe experience of this oldest of American showmen is a full guaranty that his immense pavilion will be crowded to overflowing upon the occasion of each performance.

It will remain here but one day, giving two exhibitions, afternoon and night. The lover of the "sawdust opera" should not fail to visit the exhibition.

A HOME ENTERPRISE.—The first number of the second volume of the CAROLINA FARMER is on our table.—This really meritorious journal has been changed from a monthly to a weekly, and contains eight pages (five columns each) of choice original and selected reading matter for the farm and fireside. It has a beautifully engraved head, and handsome rule border with tastefully designed corner pieces. In typographical execution it is a credit to Southern skill and enterprise. Published at the low price of $2.00 per year. Address Wm. H. Bernard, Editor and Proprietor, Wilmington, N. C.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION at St. Louis is pronounced to have been a complete success. It comprised some one hundred delegates, regularly appointed by the Governors of eleven States, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Oregon, Nevada, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Louisana, and the Territories of Colorado, Montana, New Mexico, and Utah—besides a number of delegates otherwise appointed from other States. The Convention was unanimous in favor of the removal of the Capital from Washington to the West.

☞ We direct attention of all who contemplate visiting Wilmington during the approaching Fair, to the advertisement of Messrs. Fishblate & Bro., which will be found in another column. This house ranks among the very best of the mercantile houses of the city, and we recommend them to our friends for fair dealing. You will save money by purchasing from them.

DEMOREST'S MONTHLY.—A splendid Christmas number. This favorite periodical for ladies improves with every issue. Its reliable fashions, its numerous fullsized patterns, its admirable illustrations, and great variety of useful and interesting reading matter, render it by far the most desirable magazine of the day, and in fact indispensable to ladies living away from the metropolitan centers. It is also the cheapest magazine at $3 per annum, with a handsome premium, which, for a limited time, may, we see, be a large and magnificently engraved copy of Lillie M. Spencer's "Fourth of July Pic-Nic"—a picture worth three times the cost of the magazine. Published at 838 Broadway, N. Y.

DEATH OF GEORGE PEABODY.—A cable dispatch announces the death of George Peabody, an announcement which will be received with the deepest regret wherever his name and benevolent deeds have become known.

LETTERS held for postage in Goldsboro Post Office, Nov. 8th, 1869:—Miss Aramitta Cook, Goldsboro', N. C. George B Everett, Trinity College, N. C. John Lynch, New Berne, N C. Miss Maggie Miller, Rocky Point, N C. Willie Crumble, Tarboro. N C. Jos. Ferrell, Black Depot, N C.

The Standard thus refers to the coming Fair in Wilmington: From present indications, the Cape Fear Fair, to commence at Wilmington on the 16th inst., will be, not only creditable but a decided success. In the mountain districts, the people are getting in readiness their fruit, cheese, &c., while nearer the planter and stock raiser will carry down their best samples to complete with their Eastern brethren. This is well, and proper—let the East and the West meet together, compare notes, and take council on the best plans and modes for the improvement of their common interests, and the glory and prosperity of the State.

FORTY EIGHT lives have been lost by accident at the Ohio bridge since work upon it was begun.

THE latest discovery reported is the tomb of Juliet at Verona.

NO, I THANK YOU."—At the so-called spiritual sitting in Hartford recently, there was present a woman who mourned the loss of her consort, and, as the manifestations began to appear, the spirit of the departed Benedict entered upon the scene.—Of course the widow was now eager to engage in conversation with the absent one, and the following dialogue ensued:

Widow—"Are you in the spirit world?"

The Lamented—"I am."

Widow—"How long have you been there?"

The Lamented—"O, some time."

Widow—"Don't you want to come back and be with your lonely wife?"

The Lamented—"Not if I know myself. It's hot enough around here."

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED—AND THE NEW
Universal Clothes Wringer
Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COG WHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.
Those who have used them give testimony as follows:
"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott Bishop M. E. Church.
"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune
"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention"—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.
"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer
"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr Bellows.
"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I am sure you 'our Machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.
"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with"—Wm M F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catharine's Nursery, N. Y. City.
PRICES.—A Fair Offer.
Send the retail price, Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.
No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.
Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.
Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.

A WHISKEY-SELLER'S ADVERTISEMENT FOR 1869.

Friends and neighbors: Having just opened a licensed shop for the sale of liquors in this place, I embrace this opportunity of informing you that on Saturday next I will commence the business of making drunkards, paupers and beggars, for industrious and respectable of the community to support.

I shall deal in familiar spirits, which will invite men to riot, robbery and bloodshed, and by so doing, diminish the comforts, increase the expense and endanger the welfare of the community.

I will for a small sum undertake, upon short notice, and with the greatest expedition, to prepare victims for the poor-house asylum, prisons and the gallows.

I will furnish an article suited to the taste, which will increase the number of fatal accidents, multiplying distressing diseases, and rendering those comparatively harmless incurable.

I will deal in drugs which will deprive some of life, many of reason, most of property, and all of peace; which will cause fathers to become fiends, wives to become widows, and children to become orphans and all to become great sufferers.

I will cause the rising generation to grow up in ignorance and prove a nuisance to the nation. I will cause mothers to forget their helpless children, and priceless virtue no longer to remember its value.

I will endeavor to corrupt the ministers of the gospel, defile the purity of the churches, and cause spiritual, temporal and eternal death.

If any should be so impertinent as to ask why I have the audacity to bring such accumulated misery upon a comparatively happy people, my honest reply is: "Greenbacks."

I live in a land of liberty. I have purchased the right to demolish the character, destroy the health, shorten the lives and ruin the souls of all those who choose to honor me with their patronage. Come one! come all!

I pledge myself to do all I have herein promised. Those who wish any of the evils above specified brought upon themselves and their dearest friends, are requested to meet at my "bar," where I will, for a few cents, furnish them with the certain means of doing so.

An Honest Dealer.

THE LOST FOUND.

In a town not a thousand miles from the White Mountains lives an old farmer by the name of Tom P., who was famous for nothing except the quantity of dirt that is always seen upon his person. The following story is told at his expense, which may be true for aught I know to the contrary. One time he was taken sick, and a doctor was called in, who prescribed among other things, that he should have a warm bath. Tom rebelled at this; but upon being told that his life depended upon it, he consented, and a tub of water was at once prepared by his better half, into which was thrown a liberal quantity of soap. A rough towel was then procured and the old lady commenced the task of cleaning, for once, at least her lord and master.

After working away for several minutes, her eyes were attracted by something bright that shone from under the dirt, and she worked with redoubled energy. Another bright spot was soon visible a little way from the other; and, with a light in her eye that told of her joy at the discovery, she exclaimed.

"Daddy! daddy! I'm glad the doctor told me to wash you; for, as I live, here are them trowsers that you lost two years ago. I can tell 'em by the buttons."

A Parisian author has translated Shakspeare's line, "Out, brief candle," into French thus, "Get out, you short candle."

Dear Sir:—For the last eight or ten years I have been exceedingly troubled with this painful and distressing case of the Piles. Having Congleton's Vegetable Salve" spoken so highly of as the great cure for Piles, I purchased in March 1868, while in Washington N. C, one box, and was soon relieved, and by the time I had used the contents of the box I was perfectly well, and have never had any return since. I consider myself entirely and permanently cured. I give this for the benefit of those who may be troubled with this disease, believing thereby that I will be benefiting them and recommending to them a most valuable medicine and cure, worthy of great praise.

I have also used the salve for Sore Throat and find it the best medicine I ever had in my family for that complaint.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hope, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.
